

THINGS TO DO IN LONDON THIS BANK HOLIDAY WEEKEND (MARCH 29 – 31)

Yes, it's Easter, but it's business as usual here

Mike Daw, The Standard, 28 March 2024

Bahamas, 1950. Courtesy: Alison Jacques, London, and Alexander Gray Associates, New York © The Betty Parsons Foundation; photo: Michael Brzezinski

Showcasing 30 years of artistic practice by the legendary American gallerist and artist Betty Parsons, the current retrospective at Alison Jacques focuses on the prolific period of creativity found in the three decades before Parsons' death in 1982. With a stunning range of colour deployed across both canvas and sculpture, this latest free exhibition helps reaffirm Alison Jacques's place in the landscape of essential London galleries.